Sub-Committee Will Make Suggestions in Composition of New Cabinet

(By Associated Press)

Paris, February 22.—All economic measures of a transitory nature which come before the Peace conference will be referred to the economic council appointed by the supreme conference at the suggestion of President Wilson, it was announced last night in the official communique. The communique says:

"The creation of a neutral zone between the Hungarians and Rumanians in Transylvania was referred to the supreme war council at Versailles.

"It was decided that the allies, as a result of the session of the Polish Diet at which the peers of Polish ministers were confirmed, and at which Ignace Paderewski was acclaimed as head of the government, should recognize the Polish government.

"Five delegates of the powers have been entrusted with the task of drafting a plan of procedure for the new cabinet, a sub-committee being formed to make suggestions regarding its composition and in so doing to take into account the reservations made by Lord Robert Cecil regarding the representation of the British dominions. This question was referred to the commission of foreign affairs.

"The next meeting will take place tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

The mob then began plundering shops. The dispatch says the conditions are virtually those of civil war.

HOUSE PASSES FAMOUS WHEAT GUARANTEE BILL 277 TO 152

Measure Carries Appropriation of Billion Dollars to Protect Farmers by Paying Guarantee Price

CARRIES BLANKET POWER

President Authorized to Use Necessary Agencies to Put Measure Into Effect

Government to Control Millers and Others Engaged in Handling Flour

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 22.

—The wheat guarantee bill authorizing the President to use existing agencies or create new ones to buy wheat of the 1918 and 1919 crops at the government's guarantee price and dispose of it at market prices, was passed today by the House by a vote of 277 to 152.

The measure which carries an appropriation of one billion dollars was passed with only two important amendments, one changing the date when the act shall cease to become effective, from October 15, 1920 to June 1st, 1920 and the other giving the President greater authority in restricting importations of wheat to protect the government.

The President is given blanket authority to provide all the machinery for handling the wheat from the time it is purchased from the farm until sold to the consumer, with control over millers, wholesalers, jobbers and brokers, importers, manufacturers and exchanges.

SENATOR REED ATTACKS PLAN OF THE LEAGUE

Joins Borah in Declaring League of Nations Plan "Monstrous"

Says Delegates of Other Nations Would Control American Interests

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 22.—Support for the republican attacks in the Senate upon the league of nations came from the democratic side today when Senator Reed, of Missouri, democrat, delivered a prepared address in denunciation of the plans.

The free American government, he asserted, would through the league, be largely displaced by a government "controlled by European monarchs and Asiatic delegates."

He supported the charge of Senator Borah that the league would abrogate the Monroe doctrine, involve America in all world conflicts, and compel submission of vital American questions to a foreign tribunal.

England, Senator Reed asserted, virtually would dominate the league and on all questions he insisted the United States would be overwhelmingly outvoted. Denouncing the league as a movement of internationalism he asserted that the "fangs" of Bolshevism were plainly visible in the league constitution. The provision requiring America to fight foreign wars, he said, was "monstrous."

THE WOMAN SURGEON OF GREAT CIVIL WAR IS DEAD

Dr. Mary E. Walker, 87, Dies at Home Near Oswego After a Most Eventful Career

Only Woman Who Ever Dressed in Men's Clothing by an Act of Congress

Attended Maimed on Battlefield For Four Years, Was Taken Prisoner and Exchanged

(By Associated Press)

Watertown, N. Y., February 22.—Dr. Mary Walker, aged 87, died at her home on Bunker Hill, near Oswego last night after a long illness. She was a surgeon in the Civil War and was awarded a congressional medal of honor. She gained fame by being the only woman allowed to appear in male attire by an act of Congress.

Dr. Mary E. Walker led a picturesque career. Four years were spent on the battlefields of the Civil War. The remainder of her active life was spent in fighting for feminine dress reform and woman's right to political suffrage, in which movements she was a pioneer. She frequently claimed to have been the first American woman to attempt to cast a ballot in a legal election. Her livelihood was earned during all these years by her private medical practice and by writing.

By special authorization from the Federal Congress Dr. Walker adopted male attire during the Civil War and for the half century since she had continued to wear it in civil life—the only woman in the country who ever had her rights in this respect prescribed by the National legislators. She wore a black frock coat, trousers and a high silk hat and carried a cane.

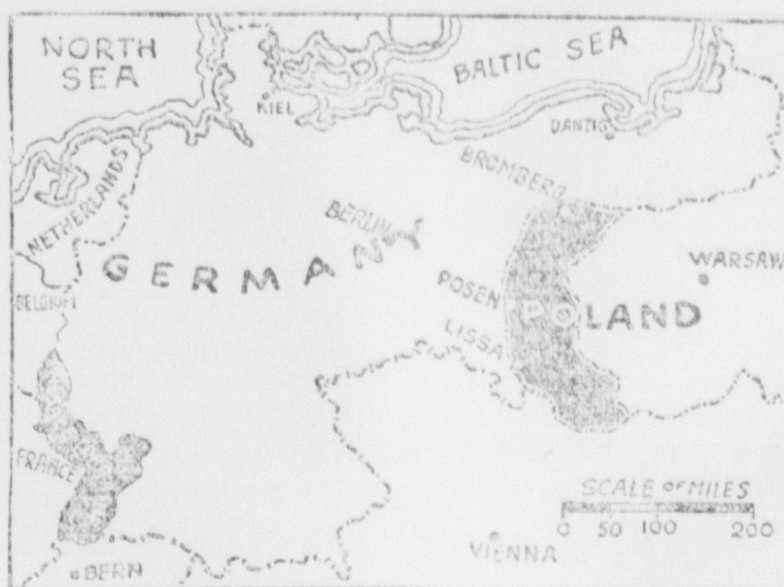

Dr. Walker also was distinguished as the only woman in history who, when held as a captive in war, was exchanged as a prisoner of war for a man of equal rank in the army of the foe. She was also the first woman to be regularly enlisted in an army as a surgeon.

Horn in Oswego, N. Y., in 1832, Miss Walker was a graduate doctor with the degree of M. D. at the age of 23. Beginning practice immediately she soon adopted masculine clothes. Her war career began at the age of 29. She volunteered her services, entering the Union army as an assistant surgeon with the rank of first lieutenant. She dressed like her brother officers, having a gold stripe running down the trouser legs, wearing a felt hat with gold cord, and an officer's overcoat. Her jacket was cut like a blouse and fitted loosely at the neck.

"When I had on my overcoat," Dr. Walker declared, "I looked every inch the man, and I am sure I acted it."

Dr. Walker never married. Her proudest possession was the bronze medal she wore on the bosom of her frock coat. On the back was engraved this legend: "Presented by the Congress of the United States to Mary E. Walker, A. A., Surgeon, U. S. Army."

SECT. DANIELS TALKS TO PRES. WILSON AT SEA

Voice of Secretary of War is Heard by President Wilson More Than 800 Miles Distant

Presidential Ship Making Good Time in a Smooth Sea

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 22.—Secretary Daniels transmitted a telephonic greeting to President Wilson today by naval radio. From his desk at the Navy Department, the secretary's voice was carried to the transport George Washington nearly 800 miles off the Atlantic coast.

As the George Washington is not equipped for long distance radio telephone transmission, Mr. Daniels talked without receiving a direct reply and an acknowledgement came later by ordinary wireless.

The President's ship at one o'clock this morning was reported in a position less than 800 miles off the coast and making good time in smooth seas directly toward Boston.

RED CROSS AT WORK IN FAR AWAY SIBERIA

Refugees Find Relief in Hands of American Red Cross Awaiting Them

Vladivostok, January 19.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—The American Red Cross in eastern Siberia through its refugee relief department, is caring for nearly 2,500 refugees. Half of these are handled directly through a distribution center in Vladivostok. There are 400 in barracks at First River, in the edge of the city. Further on, at Second River, are 300 Armenians in a barracks by themselves. Most of these refugees are receiving food and clothing; there are a certain number who are self-supporting and only require lodging.

A plan is being worked out to send the Armenians to Port Said on a Japanese steamer. Efforts are also being made to find transportation for 420 Serbians. Occupation has been found for a large number of destitute persons. An employment bureau has been established and it is probable that soon places can be found for all those who wish to work. The Canadian military organization has asked the Red Cross to man a steam laundry for the Canadian troops. Likewise the American army has made plans for a service laundry at the base here which will furnish employment for a number of laundresses.

Bishop H. St. George Tucker, who recently returned from Western Siberia where he went in the interests of the Red Cross, reported that there were some 8,500 persons there legitimate objects for the Red Cross assistance, in need of immediate help. In this number figure a group of Petrograd children. Many hundreds of these were sent to Siberia for safety at a time when the Bolshevik outrages were beginning. They were found in seven different cities, unprovided for and in great need. Clothing is being provided for them from stocks in Vladivostok and they are receiving attention.

In Omsk, Novonikolaevsk and Cheliabinsk, where typhus has made considerable headway, the Red Cross is working in conjunction with the Russians to give medical aid. Relief train No. 4 has left for the west carrying medical supplies and clothing. The last relief train sent from here, in charge of the Japanese Red Cross unit, reached Omsk about a month after leaving Vladivostok.

NOTED BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

George Washington's birthday was appropriately celebrated in the public schools on Friday. The tiny tots of the primary grades entered into the anniversary celebration with more elaborateness than the upper grades, which centered their interest in the patriotic program put on especially for the day, but throughout the various rooms tribute was paid to the first President.

Primary Grades at Central.

The little Beginners of Miss Anna Bell's room and the tots of Miss Palmer's and Miss Hoy's grades assembled in the corridor of Central to the number of a hundred and fifty children and enjoyed their George Washington celebration all the more, as a preliminary to one of the birthday parties for which these grades are noted.

The corridor, very beautifully decorated in flags and bunting, hundreds of stars dropping from the ceiling, presented a radiant scene, as the children, the girls all in white, the boys in white waists and dark trousers, gave extremely pretty exercises, pupils of each room putting on separate stunts.

Then came the birthday party, in which 70 boys from all three grades, wearing red, white and blue caps, were honor guests, the girls of these grades entertaining them with songs and birthday greetings.

The honor guests were then seated at a long table, prettily embellished in red, white and blue, and lighted with hundreds of tiny candles, and served with popcorn fritters and "all day suckers," two popular "eats" with the small folk of these grades.

The teachers bore the expense of this party, the mothers planning to take care of the next party in May, when seventy-five girls will celebrate their birthdays.

Sunnyside Celebrates.

Sunnyside was in the van guard with her celebration under the direction of Mrs. Minnie Brown, principal.

The four upper grades under Mrs. Brown, Mrs. McElwain, Miss Woodward, Miss Rowan, assembled in the hall and gave attractive patriotic programs. Especially noteworthy was the physical culture drill put on by the boys in Mrs. Brown's grade and remarkably well done.

All of the rooms were prettily decorated and there were a large number of visitors. A silver offering was taken as a nest egg for the equipping of the Sunnyside playground.

The little tots of the Primary Department were especially cunning. In Miss Maude Bush's second grade the playlets "George Washington," and "Little Mother," were especially clever and the flag drill in costume a special number.

The little folk of Mrs. Minnie McCliman's first grade were splendidly trained in beautiful drills and taking exercises.

Beginners Grade under Miss Agnes Kerrigan, was crowded with visitors all during the afternoon and presented a patriotic pageant with musical accompaniment throughout. The children were all in white, wearing crowns of red, white and blue stars, and sashes in the national colors and carried flags. They were especially applauded on their singing the national hymns and popular songs—the Star Spangled Banner, Battle Hymn of the Republic, America, Over There, Keep the Home Fires Burning, Land of Mine and other songs.

There were two musical drills. The Red C. O. S. Girls, in costume, and the Yankee Doodle Boys—with whistling accompaniment.

Wilhelmina Sprenger as Columbia, and Harry Shepler as Uncle Sam with Dean Fite and Esther Hays as George and Martha Washington, led the grand March.

Little Miss Wilhelmina Sprenger was the charming soloist of the afternoon.

The souvenirs were small card board hatchets decorated with cherries and were made by the children. Victrola and organ music enriched the program. Mothers of the children did the costuming and assisted throughout the afternoon.

FULL FARE FOR BASS BOOMERS

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., February 22.—If a bass drum should be compelled to pay a full passenger fare for riding on an interurban railway car, what fare might a trombone or a piccolo be expected to pay?

This question may have to be decided by the State Public Utilities Commission in determining whether the Northern Ohio Traction and Light Company may collect a full passenger fare for carrying a bass drum.

The company has filed a tariff in which it proposes to charge a full passenger fare for the cumbersome musical instrument. A hearing has been set by the Commission for next Thursday.

Inasmuch as this is the first instance of attempt by a public carrier to charge fare for inanimate objects and especially a bass drum, the utilities commissioners believe they are face to face with a general proposition of collecting fares for all articles carried by passengers. If a bass drum should pay, why not a piccolo, they ask?

CHERRY HILL PROGRAM

Cherry Hill School was thrown open for the entertainment of parents and friends Friday afternoon. The music room was filled to its capacity with an appreciative audience despite the inclement condition of the weather.

Practically the whole school took part in the excellent program presented. Although it was of a miscellaneous type, the strains of patriotism rang through the whole program while the birthdays of our great men were duly commemorated in verse and song. The children were seated in the down stairs rooms and were ushered into the music room as their part came in the program. The splendid arrangement of the program and its execution was due to the co-operation of teachers and pupils of the respective rooms.

Miss Stonerock's pupils entered first with "Hats Off the Flag is Passing By."

Miss McCafferty's pupils gave an excellent dialogue entitled "Who Won the War?"

Several recitations were given by the pupils, each one of excellent choice and presented in a way that became much older pupils in their difficulty of execution and expression.

It was a very important moment in the lives of Miss Rowan's pupils and one of pride in the hearts of the parents when the little folks came to the front for their part in the entertainment. Everyone watched with eager attention while the little class songs were sung and childish voices were raised in the flag salute followed by the excellent singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." A number of simple recitations were given in succession by those who were making their first speech to the audience.

Four girls of the sixth grade sang "Just a Baby's Prayer at Twilight" with much feeling and their voices blended beautifully. One of the number played the accompaniment.

Miss Rowan's pupils contributed the remainder of their program with unabated interest and zest, proving their excellent talent.

Two youthful songsters contributed "Keep the Home Fires Burning", a war song with encore, "Smiles". The little singing games were much enjoyed and showed that the children were as much at home before the eyes of visitors as in the school room.

The pupils of Miss Norris' room presented a patriotic pageant in four parts.

First came the making of the flag, in two scenes. Betsy Ross carried out her part with such ease and grace that she thoroughly delighted the audience. She was prettily gowned in a blue colonial costume with a cap partly hiding her fair head. The other ladies were each as cleverly costumed as Betsy and George Washington with his two aides left nothing to be desired in the rules of colonial gentlemen.

In second part "Defenders of the Flag," five soldiers in uniform, marched to the singing of "The Parade" by the class. Columbia and Uncle Sam rose to the full dignity of their characters.

As "Workers for the Flag" six red cross girls made a pretty picture serving tea and sewing or knitting.

All the children of the different parts were grouped on the stage for closing songs and recitations.

Each part was supplemented by pieces and songs well given.

A cunning little colonial couple sang a George Washington song.

The success of the pageant was largely due to the co-operation of the mothers in providing suitable costumes for each part in the little play. The singing of Canterbury Bells was especially good in which a quartet of boys from the upper grades sang.

Much credit is due third and fourth grade for their perfect work in a flag drill. The boys wore khaki and the girls were dressed in white. They made a pretty sight in the movements of the drill with each one carrying a flag. Miss Stonerock is to be highly praised for her efforts in gaining its perfection.

In closing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" was sung by the pupils of Miss McCafferty's room. Miss Rowan played the accompaniments for the songs and the marches.

AT EAST SIDE

While there was no formal program at East Side the anniversary was appropriately remembered in patriotic exercises. The grand march, the children wearing soldiers caps, was the big event of the afternoon.

Miss Channel, Principal, was in charge.

Washington's Birthday

This year, which has witnessed the stirring of patriotism to the depths, will not need any prodding of recollection to remember the twenty-second of February, the birthday of George Washington, and the spirit of '76 finds itself doubly alive in the splendid Americanism brought to the conflict just ending, fettering anew "one country and one flag."

No picture will ever go down the centuries more revered in the hearts of Americans than that of the first commander-in-chief of the army, General George Washington, as he bore the brunt of those troubled days when our great nation sprang to its birth and the vital force of Washington and his handful of brave patriots outgeneraled England.

Far, far from Valley Forge and Washington's starving men is General Pershing's great and wonderfully equipped army. Far indeed from the flint-lock guns of the Revolution are the great steel tanks plowing through barbed wire and over trenches like veritable fiery dragons—the liquid fire, the poisonous gases, the deadly bombs dropped from overhead—all leaving in their wake the greatest destruction the world has ever known.

If the shade of the immortal George visited the battle fields of France and Belgium what must have been his wonder! And how great his pride in the achievements of his offspring, the foremost nation upon the earth.

President McKinley said of Washington that it was his unflinching, immovable devotion to duty which made him what he was and contributed so directly to make America what she is. At no point in his administration does Washington appear in grander proportions than when he enunciated his ideas in regard to the foreign policy of the government: "Observe good faith and justice toward all nations, cultivate peace and harmony with all; religion and morality enjoin this conduct."

Comparison has often been made between the military genius of Washington and that of Napoleon, Alexander or Hannibal, and their relative positions. The difference has been drawn by a well known divine who puts it simply when he says that "Napoleon, Alexander and Hannibal rose to heights by stepping upon and putting down all others, while Washington rose to fame by reaching down and lifting up all others."

America owes to George Washington the tribute of a high place in her gallery of remembrance and it is fitting that each year on his natal day the hatchet and the cherry tree reappear, recalling the time-worn incident which, even if it never did happen, is significant of the character of the father of our country.

Our Up Town Streets

Quite a number of influential citizens have, verbally, expressed approval of our suggestion that the streets in the business section of the city be improved, and that at once.

This expression of approval comes, in many instances, from men who do not own a single foot of property in the business sections of the city and from men, too, whose places of business are not located on the wretched up-town streets, as well as from men who own property near those streets and men whose business places must be approached over one of the worn-out streets.

Not one single objection has been voiced to the insistence that the work be done and done this spring, and the same unanimity of opinion exists as to the kind of street which should be laid.

Practically all favor the suggestion that asphalt be spread over the present brick foundation.

All of which is evidence that there is no selfish purpose in the proposal by which a few only would be benefited and no mistaken impression that the streets in the business section are of advantage only to those who own property abutting on them or have places of business in that section of the city.

The truth about the matter is that all of the citizens are vitally concerned about the proposal.

POEM FOR TODAY

THE LURE OF THE SUNNY SOUTH

This is the season of the year

When 'dulcet' tunes come floating forth

From Florida—and all points near—
To wretched workers in the North,
The Post Card fiend, with malice quaint,

Reverts to form, with orange bloom,
And letter writers shrewdly paint
A canvas done in rose perfume.

They tell us of the sun-shot streams,
Of breezes born in tropic glare,

In fact, such correspondence seems
To be the hardest kind to bear.

But say—you take it from us, Bo,
That Palm Beach thing has other points

Than bees and balm and winds that blow
The ache from out a fellow's joints.

They do not tell of scorpions,
That crawl into the Tourist's shirt.

The fessive flea on cactus lawns,
The greasy food and native dirt.

They do not write of Hotel Bills
That eat a stranger's wallet dry,

And Calomel, and chigger ills,
And Souvenirists they're forced to buy

The grapefruit beats it for the North,
And oranges are ten apiece;

Sometimes pineapples venture forth
But, mostly, they are under lease.

And yet—and YET, when Winter comes,
The same old longing teases you

To join those post-card-writin' runs
And send back orange blossoms, too

—W. Livingston Larned.

THE GREAT LESSON

GERMAN LINERS ASSIGNED TO U. S. TO CARRY TROOPS

Delay Occasioned by Choked Channel at Hamburg

Finances Cause Hitch in Negotiations For Relief in Germany

Paris, February 22.—An agreement has been reached whereby the United States will obtain some of the best German merchant ships for transporting American troops home, including the Emperor, Graf Waldersee and Pretoria. The Emperor is a huge craft, second in size only to the Vaterland.

Unfortunately the exit from the channel at Hamburg became choked during the war and the Emperor cannot be brought out until the channel is dredged. Sailing of the ships is being held up also by food and financial complications. The Germans raised the point at the recent Treves meeting that the delivery of ships to the allies was dependent upon the delivery of food to Germany.

Marshal Foch agreed to have the food question settled by a commission sitting here, but the commission finds that this question is dependent upon Germany's financial situation and her ability to pay for food. The Germans are ready to pay, but the allies are unwilling to accept vast sums of depreciated currency which Germany issued during the war. This has raised the whole financial question.

The German delegates at Treves furnished a detailed statement showing their resources. It set forth the total German gold as equivalent to $700,000,000, which is insufficient to satisfy the various allied demands, and if taken must cause financial prostration. On the other hand, the allies are unwilling to accept the German paper marks, as they are unsalable outside of Germany in large amounts and the allies would be unable to use them for purchases.

he added, while unable to go on strike, had voted to lend their moral support to the fight against prohibition.

One speaker declared the prohibition amendment appeared to be "a scheme of a ring to do the liquor, wine and beer business out of existence so that their own may be increased."

"Coffee," he added, "is the natural resource when prohibition is in force and that, of course, means that the price of coffee would be advanced greatly."

SOUND-RANGING DEVICE A MARVEL

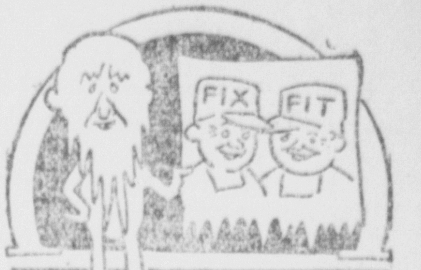

Washington, February 22.—(By Associated Press)—American sound-ranging devices in use on the British front shortly before the signing of the armistice in a single day located more than 100 hidden German guns, placing them at the mercy of the British artillery. This and many other interesting achievements of army engineer corps were revealed today with the opening of an engineer corps exhibit.

Charts show that when the United States entered the war the corps represented only 1.5 per cent of the numerical strength of the army, while when the armistice was signed it constituted 10.8 per cent. A greater proportion of the corps reached France than of any other branch of the service, and 27 per cent of the supplies shipped overseas were engineer equipment.

Many machines were exhibited, including map-making machinery. One chart showed that forestry units during October took 50,000,000 feet of lumber and 80,000 cords of wood from French forests in addition to enough railway ties to build more than 1000 miles of track.

In explaining the sound-ranging devices Major General Black said that the positions varied not more than 20 to 30 feet from the location calculated by the registers.

MEMBERS OF M CO. CAPTURE BRIDES

A double wedding of unusual interest took place Saturday afternoon at two o'clock when two members of Co. M., wearing the overseas uniform, appeared with two pretty young girls at the home of Rev. J. L. McWilliams. Both young soldiers had seen hard overseas fighting with the Rainbow Div'n, had been wounded at Chateau Thierry and had brought back the record of having played their parts in the big world war heroically.

The two couples for whom Rev. McWilliams tied the nuptial knot were Mr. Hughey Backenstoe, son of Mrs. Maude Weimer, and Miss Dannie M. Dailey, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Sexton, and Mr. Walter A. Wilson, before the war a young farmer of South Salem, and son of Mr. James Wilson, and Miss Mary Geneva Busic, daughter of Mrs. Will Stevenson.

Both girls were becomingly gowned. Miss Dailey wore a smart gown of dark blue taffeta, with spring hat, shoes and gloves of gray, and Miss Busic light blue satin, with sailor hat, oxfords and gloves of brown.

Both young couples are receiving the best wishes of their many friends. They expect to go to housekeeping in this city.

TRACTION LINE BRINGS $200,000

On behalf of the first mortgage note holders Attorney William S. Little bid in the Cincinnati and Columbus Traction company's assets, including its traction line and all equipment for $200,000.

The line runs from Hillsboro to Norwood. The C. and C. Traction company known as the "Swing Line" was placed in the hands of the Union Savings Bank and Trust Company as receiver April 12, 1913. Since then it has been operated by the receiver, but has been a losing proposition.

Several attempts to sell it have failed and an order to sell it all at the knockdown price of $800,000 a year ago resulted in no bids being received.

Claims against the traction company total $825,000 of which $600,000 represents first mortgage notes, and the balance in damage claims.

MEMOIR OF WM. STUCKEY

William McElwain Stuckey was the son of Simon and Nancy Stuckey. He was one of a family of eight children—five boys and three girls, four of whom are still living: John, Miss Jane Mrs. Clay Thompson and Mrs. Stephen Mayo.

He was born in a building which stood on the site now occupied by the Fite Grocery, May 19, 1847, and died February 15, 1919, at the age of seventy-one years, eight months and twenty-seven days.

Soon after his birth his parents moved to the country and his entire early life was spent on a farm.

On January 22, 1880, he was united in marriage to Nettie Kearney. To this union was born four daughters, one of whom died in infancy. Those living, to mourn with the mother are: Mrs. Nannie Stokesbury, Mrs. Ruth Dial and Miss Nell.

When the Rural Mail Service was inaugurated in this county, seventeen years ago, Mr. Stuckey was one of the first to receive an appointment. He was assigned to Route 4 and with the exception of a few months during last winter, on account of ill health, he has traveled the route continuously all these years. On the last day of his earthly pilgrimage, the air, as he expressed it, seemed oppressive, yet he refused to give up and continued his work until the last.

He belonged to the Masonic Lodge and Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and was a faithful and valued member of the Men's Bible Class of Grace M. E. Church.

Wrapped in the frail body of William Stuckey was a kind and loving heart and he was always ready to do more than he was physically able to do in the performance of duty. He was a man above the average in good citizenship.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the widow and sorrowing daughters, who sustain the great loss of a faithful husband and loving father.

Card of Thanks

We desire to thank our many friends and neighbors for their great kindness in the hour of our sudden bereavement and loss of our dear husband and father, and for all the beautiful flowers, also to Mr. McCoy and Rev. Cherrington who officiated.

Mrs. Wm. Stuckey,
and Family.

GROUNDHOG CASE

Whether the groundhog had anything to do with it or not, we are having our usual winter, mild though it is. But what we wanted to say was this: The service you get here don't depend on any antiquated superstition—it is the product of years of experience and an honest desire to give value received for every cent our patrons spend with us.

WASHINGTON HIGH BEATS OLD RIVAL IN BIG CONTEST

Strong Team From This City Has Good Chance to Win Coveted Trophy Cup in Tournament Under Way.

Washington and Waverly Clash This Afternoon When Greenfield and Buckskin Also Meet in Semi-finals.

In the big basketball tournament under way at Greenfield, Washington easily defeated Hillsboro in the preliminary games, expects to defeat Waverly in the semi-finals this afternoon and meet either Buckskin or Greenfield in the final test tonight on the floor of the McClain High School in Greenfield.

The auditorium was filled to its utmost capacity Friday evening when the class one basketball teams played their first elimination games in the South Central Ohio basketball tournament.

The second class teams—Frankfort, Jackson, New Vienna, and Lynchburg had played their games in the afternoon. In this series Jackson won over Frankfort 33 to 8, while Lynchburg was victorious over New Vienna with a close score of 16 to 12.

Washington Hi was allotted her old rival Hillsboro for the first game. The local boys by excellent team work and superior basket shooting easily won over their rivals, a team which many fans had hoped out for the cup.

Laughlin and Reif at guards held the Hillsboro forwards down easily. DeWees and Dern shot baskets at will while Willis, playing his usual classy game, threw in a few baskets for good measure. Tom Rogers, one of Washington's crack guards, appeared at forward the second half and showed his ability to play any position.

When the final whistle blew Hillsboro had been eliminated by Washington, the lop-sided score being 36 to 14.

The fastest contest of the evening was staged between Circleville and Greenfield. The first half showed Circleville in the lead 17 to 14. In the second half Greenfield changed their lineup and by hard playing was able to win out in the last two minutes of play by four points. The score was 24 to 20.

Waverly and Vinton played a hard fought game. The two teams were very evenly matched. The final score was 21 to 18 with the three points belonging to Waverly.

In the fourth and last game Buckskin eliminated Wilkesville in an uninteresting game, final score 25 to 9.

This afternoon Washington Hi is playing Waverly while McClain Hi will tie up with Buckskin. These games will be the semi-finals and will decide the two contestants to play for the cup this evening.

The dope seems to pick Greenfield and Washington for the big show this evening on account of the fact that Washington is expected to win over Waverly while Greenfield does the same stunt with Buckskin.

The Washington boys are in fine shape and if permitted to play in the final game will give Greenfield a hard run for the trophy cup, with every indication of defeating McClain and winning the cup.

A large number of Washington rooters are attending the series and loyally supporting Washington High. Superintendent McClain is chaperoning the Washington team.

ODE FOR GENERAL WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

(By Robert Burns)

No Spartan tube, no Attic shell,
No lyre Aeolian I awake,
'Tis Liberty's bold note I swell:
Thy harp, Columbia, let me take!
See gathering thousands, while I sing
A broken chain, exulting, bring
And dash it in a tyrant's face,
And dare him to his very beard,
And tell him he no more is fear'd,
No more the despot of Columbia's race!
A tyrant's proudest insults brav'd,
They shout a People freed! They hail an Empire sav'd!

Where is man's godlike form?
Where is that brow erect and bold,
That eye that can unmov'd behold
The wildest rage, the loudest storm
That e'er created Fury dared to raise?
Avant! thou caltiff, servile, base,
That tremblest at a despot's nod,
Yet crouching under the iron rod,
Canst laud the arm that struck
Th' insulting blow!
Art thou of man's Imperial line?
Dost boast that countenance divine?
Each skulking feature answers: No!
But come, ye sons of Liberty,
Columbia's offspring, brave as free,
In danger's hour still flaming in the van
Ye know, and dare maintain the Royalty of Man!

Alfred, on thy starry throne
Surrounded by the tuneful choir,
The bards that erst have struck the patriot lyre,
And rous'd the freeborn Briton's soul of fire,
No more thy England own!
Dare injured nations from the great design
To make detested tyrants bleed?
Thy England execrates the glorious deed!
Beneath her hostile banners waving,
Every pang of honour braving,
England in thunder calls: 'The tyrant's cause is mine!'—
That hour accurst how did the fiends rejoice,
And Hell thro' all her confines raise th' exulting voice!
That hour which saw the generous English name
Link'd with such dammed deeds of everlasting shame!

Thee, Caledonia, thy wild hearts among
Fam'd for the martial deed, the heav'n-taught song,
To thee I turn with swimming eyes!
Where is that soul of Freedom fled?
Immingled with the mighty dead
Beneath that hallow'd turf where Wallace lies!
Hear it not, Wallace, in thy bed of death!
Ye babbling winds, in silence sweep!
Disturb not ye the hero's sleep,
Nor give the coward secret breath!
Is this the ancient Caledonian form,
Firm as her rock, resistless as her storm?
Show me that eye which shot immortal hate,
Blasting the Despot's proudest bearing!
Show me that arm which, nerv'd with thundering fate,
Crush'd Usurpation's boldest daring!
Dark-quenched as yonder sinking star,
No more that glance lightens afar,
That palsied arm no more whirled on the waste of war.

MINISTER OF WAR KILLED

(By Associated Press)
London, Feb. 22.—A German wireless message received here quotes Philipp Scheidemann, German chancellor, as saying that Herr Rosshauptner, Bavarian minister of war, has been killed.

OBITUARY

James Edward Marine, son of Robert and Serepta Marine, was born in Fayette county, Ohio, February 9, 1841, so that he had just passed his 78th birthday when he was called to try the realities of the unseen life.

One of a family of 15 children of whom five are still living and able to be present. They are Wm. Marine, Mrs. Sarah Cripps, David Marine, Jerry Marine, and Mrs. Nancy Cripps. His occupation was that of farming.

Mr. Marine was one of those who answered the call to fight for the unity of this country. He enlisted first in the 60th Reg. of Ohio Vol. Inf., being but 20 years of age. After a service of three months he was honorably discharged, but re-enlisted in June, 1863, in Co. A, 2nd Reg. of the Heavy Artillery Ohio Volunteers and was discharged from the service in August, 1865. Members of his company and regiment who still live in Fayette county are Milton Elliott, Wm. Crosby, Harmanus Parnell, Harry Rodgers, Billy Wells and Merritt Sturgeon.

He was a member of the G. A. R. Rodgers Post, Good Hope, Ohio, No. 682.

On November 19, 1866, he was married to Miss Amanda E. Davis, who still survives. To this union were born seven children, one of whom died several years ago. The other children are Lemuel, Mrs. Corah Bonham, Mrs. Lucy Jones, Mrs. Theresa Brakefield, Mrs. Adda McCoy, of Fayette county, and Robert of Union county, Ohio. Besides these children he leaves 13 grand children and one great-grand-child. He led a quiet, unassuming life. He was an active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for many years, having joined at Mt.

Carmel under the pastorate of the Rev. T. G. Wakefield.

The family then came to this neighborhood where the friends and neighbors of Sugar Grove knew him to be prompt and punctual in all church work. He loved the preaching service and inspired the preacher by his warm sympathy and hearty response.

But his choice service was the prayer and class meeting. In class he was rather emotional and frequently moved the audience with his shouts of praise and thanksgiving. Would often lead in singing the songs he loved. He served as Superintendent of the Sunday School and was class leader as long as he attended church.

For about three years he was confined to his home, having had a stroke of paralysis which made him almost helpless. He had the best of care but grew weaker and weaker, until the death angel came to relieve him.

But—
He is at rest, his once strong form
At last has had to yield,
To death's keen blade, that he defied
On many a battlefield;
His martial tread is heard no more
His weary march is done,
He will sleep beneath the flag he loved
This man of Sixty-one.

The flag hangs union down today,
His comrades bow their heads,
As tattoo sounds the last farewell
The requiem of the dead;
He's fought the fight, his day is passed
A death at last has won—
Another hero has left the ranks
Of those of Sixty-one.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness during the sickness and death of our husband and father.

FIFTEEN-YEAR SOLDIER DIES OF PNEUMONIA

"Little Soldier Man" Saw Three Years of Service Although He Could Not Enlist

(By Associated Press)
Brownsville, Tex., February 22.—Salaman Lerma, 15 years old, the "Little Soldier Man" of the Twenty-Sixth Infantry, is dead. After three years' service he died of pneumonia in the trenches of France and was buried at Gondecourt with military honors. His home town, San Benito has been asked to place a gold star in its service flag.

"He was not an enlisted man, for one can't enlist at fifteen," wrote Samuel Robertson, Lieutenant Colonel of engineers in France, in telling of his death, "but he had been mascot of E. Company, Twenty-Sixth Infantry, from September, 1915, until death.

"No braver spirit ever served in the United States army. He has no relations and most of his old company have been killed or wounded. It late November when I saw them there were only three men left who were in the company at San Benito." Salaman, a homeless lad of twelve years, was adopted at San Benito by the Twenty-Sixth, then patrolling the Mexican border. Adventure awaited just over the threshold, and he met the test with a courage that brought instant distinction.

With Robertson, then a civilian, he was driving through a lonely stretch of country twelve miles from San Benito. A band of Mexicans suddenly appeared from a patch of brush and surrounded the automobile. In an instant firing became general and a rain of bullets clattered against the car, which continued plunging forward, with Robertson and the lad returning the fire. Robertson's hat was shot from his head. The boy escaped unhurt.

When the regiment proceeded to France, Salaman went along as mascot and was in the trenches for several months.

ACCEPT SEATS

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, January 28.—At the recent elections several Sinn Fein leaders were returned from more than one constituency. In the normal course, if they were taking their seats, they would have to choose between seats, and there would be fresh elections for the vacancies thus created. But as no Sinn Fein is going to Parliament this course is not obligatory and they have decided not to adopt it.

LINEN COMBINE

AS YOUNG AS YOUR KIDNEYS

The secret of youth is ELIMINATION OF POISONS from your body. This does, you can live to be a hundred and enjoy the good things of life with as much "pep" as you did when in the springtime of youth. Keep your body in good condition, that's the secret. Watch the kidneys. They filter and purify the blood, all of which blood passes through them once every three minutes. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you have nothing to fear. Drive the poisonous wastes and deadly uric acid accumulations from your system. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules and you will always be in good condition. You will feel strong and vigorous, with steady nerves and elastic muscles. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories at Haarlem, Holland. They are a reliable remedy which has been used by the sturdy Dutch for over 200 years, and has helped them to develop into one of the strongest and healthiest races of the world. Get them from your druggist. Do not take a substitute. In sealed packages—three sizes.

CLAIMS CZECHS FACE SERIOUS DIFFICULTIES

Presence of The Allies Alone Prevents Worn Out Czechs Falling Prey to Bolsheviks

Vladivostok, January 30.—(Correspondent of The Associated Press)—A gloomy picture of the situation and outlook in Western Siberia and Russia is drawn by C. L. Preston, who recently returned from a journey as far west as Ekaterinburg, in the interests of the Red Cross. The Czech-Slovak front, he declared, is a misnomer, since there is no "front" in the usual acceptance of the term. There were Czech outposts in widely separated locations and the fighting was of a guerilla nature. The Czechs, he said, were worn out with long service under trying circumstances and, in his opinion, would fall easy prey to the Bolsheviks if the menace of Allied troops were removed.

Behind the Czechs the country was full of ex-officers of the old government, civil and military, who had slipped through in disguise, put on their long-discarded uniforms and insignia and were busily plotting a restoration of the monarchy. Nobody, said Mr. Preston, was concerned with improvement of the economic conditions. Railroad service was maintained in a hit-and-miss fashion. Practically only freight cars were available for passenger traffic and these were invariably crowded to a ridiculous degree.

Most of the passenger coaches were serving as domiciles for politicians or political leaders or for the transporting of delegations. A considerable number were devoted to the service of Allied officers and Red Cross or other charitable organizations, but a far greater number were employed by the Russians. Stations at every town, of importance along the Trans-Siberian were filled with cars. Many had been stationary for months.

A commendable feature of the situation, asserted Mr. Preston, was the devotion of the railway employees who had been working on half pay or without pay and with insufficient clothing and otherwise under most exacting conditions. Except at Tomsk, which is off the main line of retreat of refugees, and at Irkutsk which somehow manages to keep them moving, it was practically impossible to find lodging. Every other city or town has had its population doubled.

Food conditions are good throughout Siberia, said Mr. Preston. In many localities the grain crop of 1915 was still unexhausted and the products of the various sections, due to lack of transportation, were marketed locally. It was next to impossible to ship products not only because of lack of cars but owing to restrictions imposed by the various local administrations to curtail exportation. A thousand rubles demanded for use of a freight car in addition to regular freight charges, and the uncertainty of any shipment ever arriving at destination effectively discouraged would-be shippers.

Mr. Preston, who was formerly a resident of Riga and Petrograd, was designated by the government at Washington as an advisor in the relief work in Siberia. He has resigned his commission and is returning to America.
